The Citizens' line will substitute the gas motor for horse power and extend its line several miles.

Death of Richard Damery.
Richard Damery, aged 65 years, died of pneumonia at his residence, one and a half miles northeast of Blue Mound, at 2 o'clock, January 28. Deceased was born in Ireland in the year 1825, and when a boy came with his parents to this country, who settled in the state of Connecticut. Arriving at manhood Richard and his brother George came to this state, stopping near Chapin, Morgan county, where they remained a few years and then, in 1857, came to Macon county and settled on adjoining farms. Deceased was a hard-working man and a good manager, and starting with 80 acres of raw prairie, and in debt for that, he had by good management become the owner of several hundred acres of well improved land, unencumbered. He was a member of the Methodist church, in good standing, and will be sadly missed by the church and community. Deceased was twice married, and was the father of seven children—two by his last wife. He was a brother of George Damery, of Blue Mound, and James Damery, of New York City.

The funeral services will take place at the residence at 2 o'clock Thursday.

Railroad Officials Here To-Night.
Col. Hays and Messrs. Knight and Fleming, of the Wabash, are in the city and will be at the rooms of the Decatur Club this evening, where they will be met and welcomed by the business men, who will be glad to welcome them especially in recognition of the liberal freight rates conceded by the Wabash.

Will Select the Place.
It was unofficially stated in this paper last evening that the union religious revival, to commence March 2, would be held at the First M. E. church. The place has not yet been decided upon. That matter will be settled at a future time by the committee. Last evening Rev. T. W. Pinkerton, W. T. Wells and O. Z. Greene were appointed as a special committee to canvass the city as to the most suitable church in which to hold the union meeting. The committee will report in a few days, and then the place will be officially announced.

Brotherhood of St. Andrews.
The Brotherhood of St. Andrews, of St. John's church, will give a reception to the members and friends of the church this evening at the rectory, 229 North Church street. This chapter has been recently established here and promises to be very helpful in all the work of the church. The Brotherhood is composed of young men and there are 181 chapters in the Episcopal church in the United States. The special object is to win young men to the church. Obedience is required to two rules: the rule of service and the rule of prayer.

Brought Back.
J. A. Winslow, adjudged insane and taken to Jacksonville yesterday afternoon, was brought back last night, as there was no room for him at the asylum. He is in custody of the sheriff, and will receive skilled medical treatment as soon as possible.

Going Away.
Charles F. Wilcox and family will soon leave Decatur to locate at Andrews, Ind., where Mr. Wilcox will take the position of Wabash trainmaster, his district embracing nearly 300 miles of road. Mr. Wilcox, who has been the Wabash electrician for some time in the office of Supt. Kinsman, will leave for Andrews to-night.

Sothern is Great.
"Some day, some day" we may have a better play at the Grand than "Lord Chumley," which was witnessed and enjoyed by a large audience last night, but we doubt it. It is a capital creation, the hero of which is Mr. F. H. Sothern, who takes the character of a drawing English swell, a gentleman always, whose hard luck in love affairs and self-sacrificing friendship for Hugh, his chum, got him into more trouble than he expected, and yet he was grit to the last, and proved conclusively that the villain spoke the truth when he said: "Chumley, you are not such a fool as you look." The play is beyond description, bristling as it is with surprising dialogue, rapid action and pretty and laughable situations. It was different from anything we have yet seen in Decatur, and it was given in capital style by a splendid, well-balanced company, every character being a study and perfectly rendered. Mr. Sothern was on the stage nearly all of the time and his presence was always welcome, because he was so clever in his work, and everybody was in full sympathy with him and wished him victory in his battle of the heart, as he was in the end when he clasped Eleanor to his breast. Rowland Buckstone, White Whitley, Walter Craven, Charlotte Tuttle, Alice King Hamilton, Adelaide Hamilton, Kittie Wilson, Tully Marshall, T. C. Valentine and W. B. Royston, all good, formed the support. The stage setting and costumes were superb. Come again, Lord Chumley.

JUDGE VAIL has written Judge Smith that he need not come to Decatur to-morrow to preside at the trial of G. D. Williams, as the defendant is dead. Judge Smith had arranged to come here to-morrow.

County Court.
The following business was transacted yesterday before Judge Nelson in the county court:

In the matter of the special assessment for the construction of the Union street sewer, J. Q. A. Odor, George V. Loring and James C. Lake appointed commissioners.

In the matter of the special assessment for the construction of the Wilcox sewer, J. G. Cloyd, Thomas A. Pritchett and Chas. M. Durfee appointed commissioners.

In the matter of the special assessment for the construction of the Broadway sewer, W. B. Chambers, George P. Blane and E. C. Dasey appointed commissioners.

In the matter of the special assessment for the construction of the Jasper street sewer, W. A. Barnes, I. W. Ehrman and John R. Miller appointed commissioners.

A SPRING medicine is needed by everybody. Winter food, largely consisting of salt meat and animal fat, causes the liver to become disordered and the blood impure, hence the necessity of a cleansing medicine. The best is Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Correction.
The report of the transfer of Anthony & Kuhn's brewery interests in this city, which was published in a morning paper of Saturday last, is altogether unfounded. Anthony & Kuhn have had no intention of selling out, but will continue to supply the trade as usual.

An Afternoon Wedding.
A quiet wedding was consummated this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Montgomery, No. 247 West Main street, the happy participants being Miss Minnie Montgomery, and W. R. Wise, of Carthage, Mo. Rev. W. H. Penhallagon, of the First Presbyterian church, tying the nuptial knot. Only the immediate relatives of the couple were present. The bride is a sister of A. R. and C. W. Montgomery, and is a most estimable lady. The groom is a resident of Carthage, Mo., where he holds a responsible position in the office of the Pacific Express company. The Republican joins their many friends and acquaintances in wishing them long life and happiness.

He was in the Wreck.
Zuch T. Pope, traveling agent for the Singer Sewing Machine company, this city, got home yesterday from Indiana. He was in the damaging Monon railway wreck at Carmel, Ind., but fortunately escaped with but a slight cut on the head. It was a terrible catastrophe. Several lives were lost and a number of cars were destroyed by fire.

Resigned.
Mr. N. B. Patterson, master of transportation of the P. D. & E. railroad resigned his office yesterday to assume the position of superintendent of transportation of the Louisville & Southern railroad. His successor has not been designated.

Work Together.
The way to make Decatur boom is a business way for every man of means and wisdom to work together for personal and general good. In union there is strength, and when a body of determined men unite to bring about a certain worthy object, it is generally as good as accomplished.

PERSONAL MENTION.

THE WILLIAMS INQUEST.

Verdict of the Jury on the Mt. Zion Suicide.
The full particulars of the sensational suicide of G. Davis Williams Wednesday morning at the home of his brother, Major R. T. Williams, were given in the Republican last evening. During yesterday afternoon Coroner Bendure held the inquest. The only witness was Major Williams, who testified that his son, Harry, had come down stairs and informed him that Uncle Davis had shot himself in his room. The witness immediately went to the room and found his brother in a dying condition, with a 38-calibre bullet lying near at hand. The following was the verdict of the jury:

THE VERDICT.
In the matter of the inquisition on the body of Garrett Davis Williams, deceased, held at the residence of his brother, R. T. Williams, on the 26th day of January, A. D. 1890. We the undersigned jurors, sworn to inquire into the death of Garrett D. Williams, on oath do find that he came to his death by a pistol wound, inflicted by himself with suicidal intent.

J. W. HARRIS, S. F. PEEK, PATRICK HINES, JOHN BROWN, W. H. HINES, J. W. WALKER.

DR. MAY'S STATEMENT.
In connection with the inquest Dr. S. R. May submitted the following statement:

DR. MAY'S CERTIFICATE.
MT. ZION, ILL., Jan. 28, 90.
Whoever I May Concern:
This is to certify that I examined G. D. Williams and found that he died from suicide, due presumably from despondency following a rupture of the heart.

The funeral was held to-day at the Williams house, and was conducted by Rev. T. W. Pinkerton, pastor of the Christian church, this city. It was largely attended, many friends from Decatur going out on the forenoon train.

The suicide occupied a room on the second floor of the Williams residence, and the morning of the tragedy two of his nephews were asleep in the room. There was a lamp in the room turned down low, and upon the stand on which it rested was an open watch. It is learned that early that day Monday morning Davis Williams got up and went to his trunk on the opposite side of the room. He took something out of it and returned to his bed. Soon after the explosion of the revolver was heard, which aroused both of the nephews. Harry jumped from his bed and turned up the lamp. As he did so he looked at the watch to see that it was 6:10 o'clock, and then at the bed to find that his uncle had shot himself through the head. Davis did not utter a word or make a sign. He was quickly dying and passed away soon after his brother reached his side.

It is further stated that during Sunday evening both brothers set up late talking over their affairs, and what they intended to do on the farm this year. There was no word or act on the part of Davis, that evening, indicating that he contemplated suicide.

The deceased was an artist in handling a revolver. He was an exceptionally fine shot, at one time breaking 24 matches out of a possible 25 at 20 paces, upon a wager to break 20 out of 25. He could shoot equally as well with either hand. He frequently drove nails into planks with the bullets from his revolver.

The bullet which went through the brain of the deceased was seen at the coroner's office this morning. The weapon used was an old army revolver which he had had in possession for years, which he had named, "Old Bet." The bullet was quite flattened on one side and was found on the pillow, it seemingly having spent its force and rolled out where it was found. A small piece of bone was found in the bullet.

Amusements.
This evening we are to have that ever welcome comedy, "Peck's Bad Boy" by the Atkinson company. It is really an ingeniously manufactured bit of drillery, and no one can sit it through without a keen enjoyment of its ludicrous. The Bad Boy, his father, Major Isaac Peck, Miss Minnie, his sweetheart, and Schultz, the gypsyman, co-sufferer with the Major, are actual personalities to very many thousands of readers of the chronicles and spectators of the play.

To-morrow night "A Rag Baby" will be the attraction. Of the play the Springfield Republican said:

The performance of "A Rag Baby" at the opera house last evening kept a large audience in good humor. Dan Collier as "Old Sport" was quite successful in bringing in bold relief that familiar individual's sporting proclivities, and gained four or five encouragements in the line of applause. The company was very good, Georgia Parker sharing much of the applause. With Mr. Collier she received several encores in singing the "Little Peach" duet, as sung by Francis Wilson and Marie Johnson in the "Columbia."

Of the other parts, Mr. Mack as "Tony Jay" was, perhaps, most noticeable, while encores were earned by the tramp trio, Messrs. Duckland, Bennett and Stanley, for their songs in the second act.

Buried with Pythian Honors.
One of the largest funerals ever witnessed in Marion was that of the late R. V. Wilcox, an old and honored citizen, which took place from the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon. The church was filled and hundreds stood on the outside during the service, which was conducted by Rev. W. B. Atkinson, assisted by Rev. W. P. Gibson, of the Presbyterian church. The Methodist choir furnished the music, and H. G. Kepler, William Stortzenborough, N. A. Orouch, Samuel Lyons, Fred Shoemaker and C. L. Jones served as pall-bearers. Decatur Division, No. 16, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, F. W. Wisner in command, attended the service in a body, and the Marion subordinate lodge turned out to a man, to bury their brother with Pythian honors. Frank Potter, of Marion, was the acting captain, and Albert Freeman presided. Marion has lost a leading citizen, and the Pythian order an active member by the death of Sir Knight Wilcox.

Horses.
Edwin Pratt will be here on February 1 to buy a carload of good, sound young horses, for the New England market. He will be at the Pratt stables, on North Church street.

MARRIED.
At his office, on January 29th, by Ira B. Curtis, J. P. John A. Sackett and Miss Oda C. Mark, both of Macon.

DIED.
On Tuesday, January 28, 1890, Miss Lillie Hunsford, of consumption, at 722 West North street, aged 7 years.

Deceased was a sister of Mrs. G. W. Young. Her illness was a long one, but she bore it uncomplainingly. Many friends will mourn her death.

Funeral on Tuesday, January 28, 1890, Miss Sarah Christy, aged 64 years.

The funeral took place to-day at 10 o'clock in Forsyth, Rev. Huber officiating. Interment at Rolling Springs cemetery.

There is but little opportunity during winter, says The American Agriculturist for November, to give bees attention, and the proper time to put them in shape is during the autumn months. Feeding should all be done before cold weather sets in, and they should be settled in their winter quarters before real winter is at hand. It often occurs that winter overtakes us with colonies that lack food. In such cases we cannot possibly use syrup for food, as the weather is too cold for the bees to seal it over, and unsealed stores will not serve properly for winter. The moisture which arises from the bees in cold weather enters the unsealed honey and dilutes it, making it very unwholesome. Our only resort, therefore, for feeding in cold weather is to make candy and use it. This is a very good and healthful food if properly made and administered. It is made from granulated sugar by melting it, adding a little water—no more than will thoroughly melt the sugar—when it is boiled a few minutes and poured out into cakes or slates of three or four pounds each. When cold this becomes very hard, almost like rock candy. In feeding this it is placed on frames just over the cluster of bees, so that they can have access to it at all times. When in this position it receives the heat arising from the bees, and they remain on it all the time. It is so hard that it will last them a long while. This candy may be given less at intervals during winter, and colonies may be brought through in good shape that would have otherwise perished. This or any other work that is necessary to do with bees in winter should be done on warm days. It will not do to molest them on a cold day, but it should always be done on days when the bees are flying.

Guarded by Their Subjects.

One often sees on the streets of Athens a pleasant looking couple walking arm in arm. They are not just middle age, and have the air of people whose details are paid, whose consciences are clear and whose digestions are always good. They are dressed in ordinary citizen's garb. Inside the collar of his coat is the trade mark of a famous London tailor, and the bill for her quiet but stylish walking gown bears the imprint of a Paris dressmaker.

They always seem to be sightseeing, gazing into shop windows, looking into new buildings, observing the throngs of passers by, or when all else fails, admiring the blue skies and bright sunshine of the City of the Violet Crown. No royal guard attend them. They make their way through the crowd, jostling and being jostled with unfailing good humor. Sometimes they may be seen standing on the curb or on some house step, waiting to see a procession pass by or watching an illumination or other public pageant.

Again, the gentleman may be seen riding on horseback alone or attended by a comrade, but in civilian dress; or the lady may be seen on the promenade, escorted or being escorted by a huge Danish dog. But one notices that a great many people and all the officers and soldiers salute them with precise courtesy, and from this circumstance the conclusion is at last reached that they must be people of considerable importance. They are, in fact, the king and queen of Greece—Chicago Herald.

Wanted and Worn.

The Dundas Banner tells a romantic tale of how W. L. Bruce, a young Montreale, fell in love with, wooed, and married Irene, the black-eyed daughter of Neoskaleto, the well-known Indian songstress. It appears they first met at Montreal, when Neoskaleto and her daughter were guests at the house of Bruce's mother. A mutual attachment sprang up between the young people, and when Irene returned to her home on the Six Nations reservation, where she resided with her aunt, a Mrs. Powless, it was with a mutual understanding that as soon as possible they were to be married. By the aid of a bright young Indian friend, Irene's mission was passed between the two, and on Sunday week it was arranged that young Bruce should drive over from Brantford to a trysting place, and from there the two should drive to a minister's house and be married.

But the road to the course of true love was once again exemplified. The old aunt "smelt a rat" and set a watch, with the result that just as the lovers met they were intruded upon by some Indians who had followed Irene, and she was carried back to the reservation. But they were all obstacles, and on Monday they met again, and this time succeeded in tying the marital knot, when the bride was once again seized and taken back. On Monday night, however, her friends seized her, brought her to Brantford, and delivered her to her husband, and on Tuesday they left for Montreal as happy as two young turtle doves.

A New Italian Coin. A dollar is to be struck in Italy, larger in size and greater in value than the familiar five lire piece. The old Marie Therese is to be the model. Even in coins, and even in Italy, they seem to be going back to the old patterns. The Marie Therese thaler is not now so unusual as it used to be. There is a tendency in coins to locate themselves. To this day the forty franc piece of the first Napoleon, rare in the north of France, and not often met in Paris, are in free circulation on the Riviera. The new coin will, of course, have on the reverse the familiar effigy of King Humbert and be surrounded by an inscription setting forth the Italian sovereignty over its African possessions—American Banker.

A one-legged man whom the Seattle (Wash.) police were after the other day took refuge in a cellar, barred the door and defied the whole force. The fire department was called out and the cellar pumped full of water. When it got up to the man's chin he surrendered. Since then he has escaped three times from jail.

The Verdict Unanimous. W. D. Sutt, Druggist, Bippis, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever sold in my 20 years' experience is Electric Bitters." Householders of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the liver, kidneys or bladder. Only half a dollar a bottle at Dr. A. J. Brown's Drug Store.

Princess Rudolph's Tomb. The vault of the Capuchin church, where the Crown Prince Rudolph's remains are entombed, was opened to the public from noon till 5 this evening and will be open again all day tomorrow, writes a correspondent. The vault was brilliantly lighted and odorless with the scent of the fresh flowers of the wreaths deposited on the sarcophagi of the various members of the imperial house lying near the crown prince's tomb. This last was smothered with splendid floral tributes, wreaths having been laid on it by all the archdukes. Above all the rest were two wreaths, one from the crown prince's widow, with the inscription "Von Deiner Stephanie," the other from their only child, the little Archduchess Elizabeth, with the inscription "Von Deiner Erzi," the Hungarian for Elizabeth. The imperial vault was densely thronged, and the visitors were required to pass quickly around the central attraction, the crown prince's tomb, in order to make room for others. Six tall wax tapers were burning in high girandoles around each of the larger sarcophagi and two wax candles near the smaller tombs.

Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is the "ideal" hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and sleek; and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume. "Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did not avail. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my hair began to grow again, and in a few weeks it was as thick as ever. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—M. J. Munday, Sharon, Conn. "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing for the hair, from turning gray, restores the hair's natural growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass. "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequalled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. LaFever, Eaton Rapids, Mich. "Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I would like to see it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and beautiful. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Engineer," McArthur, Ohio. "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Day, Cohoes, N. Y. "My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.
